Visitors from Clear Ridge were numerous at the county seat this week. Too many to mention but by the ruddy cheeks and glowing eyes the pumpkin pies, buckwheat cakes and sausage are the principal rations down there. OPENING SERVICE IN THE TABERNACLE NEXT SUNDAY EVENING

Three Hundred Voices in the Great Chorus---W. D. Hamilton and Party to Reach Bedford Tomorrow

In the rebuilding of the walls of Jerusalem under Nehemiah, it was said, "the people have a mind to work." So has it been in Bedford during the last week in the erection of the tabernacle for the coming Hamilton and Gould meetings. Melodious has been the music of hammer and saw in the hands of volunteer workmen. In response to the call issued through last week's papers, and from the pulpits upon Sabbath, forty-five men reported for work during the day upon Tuesday, some for a full day, others for a part of the day. Under the skillful direction of William Arnold, supervisor of the work, and Dr. S. F. Statler, chairman of the tabernacle committee, the men were divided into squads and were kept busy carrying lumber, raising the frame work, enclosing the sides, putting on the roof, building the platform and seats, etc.

At the same time a large committee of ladies were busy preparing dinner and supper for the men, which they served in excellent style in the basement of the Presbyterian Church.

An interesting scene at the tabernacle grounds was the groups of lady visitors who came to see and to encourage the men in their work, and many of whom insisted upon the privilege of at least carrying a board or driving a nail.

Not all of the work was done upon Tuesday, however, as every day during the past week there has been a larger or smaller number of volunteer workmen, cheerfully contributing their labor toward the erection of the tabernacle, in which so much interest now centers, and toward which so many Christian hearts are looking in prayer and hope.

The indications now are that all the details of the work, including heating and lighting and decorating, will be fully completed, and that everything will be in readiness for the first service upon Sunday night.

On Friday evening three hundred chairs will be placed upon the terraced platform for the great chorus choir. Each chair will bear the name of its occupant, and when the occupant cannot be present, it is expected that a substitute will be furnished, if possible. Those who sing the various parts will be placed together, and in proportionate numbers upon the platform. Prof. C. D. Gould, the musical director, who will have charge of the choir, is said to have few equals as a chorus leader.

The evangelistic party will be entertained at the Union Hotel, and is comprised of Rev. W. D. Hamilton, the evangelist; Prof. C. B. Gould, the musical director; Mr. Chester White, a personal worker and general helper, and Mrs. Ellen Nixon Shoemaker from Chambersburg.

Their opening service will be upon Sunday evening at 7:30, but on Saturday evening at 7:30, they wish to meet all the members of the chorus choir at the tabernacle for the purpose of assigning the seats and arranging the parts. If any members of the choir cannot be present they are requested to send their card with some one else so that their seats may be marked and reserved. Dr. Hamilton also wishes to meet the pastors on Saturday evening for a preliminary conference with reference to the program of the meetings.

The advertising committee have been doing their work thoroughly and well, and with a widening interest in the prospect of this first tabernacle meeting in the county, it is expected that there will be large crowds in attendance from the very beginning.

A good man has been employed as janitor and watchman, and will be right on the job. Ushers will be at all the entrances to the tabernacle, and in all of the aisles to give prompt attention to all comers. The tabernacle will have a seating capacity of 2,000, and we welcome our friends from Everett and other neighboring towns, and from all the rural districts round about. "Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

The cottage prayer meetings have been growing in interest and attendance. They will be held tonight for the last time before the tabernacle meetings begin, as follows:

District No. 1, F. C. Pate's; District No. 2, Harvey Davidson's; District No. 3, Henry Heckerman's; District No. 4, E. M. Pennell's; District No. 5, Daniel Imler's; District No. 6, Elias Gibson's; District No. 7, George Farber's; District No. 8, Uriah Heiple's; District No. 9, Mrs. James Cleaver's; District No. 10, James Irwin's; District No. 11, John Line's; District, No. 12, A. M. E. Zion Parsonage; Chalybeate, Charles T. Bagley's.

The Gazette's Contest

The answers to The Gazette's Contests are numerous as ever. The war does not attract so much attention. The election took second place and the guessing still goes on.

The missing word for Page 1, last week, was promise in Fred S. Sammel Company's ad. The missing word for this week on page 1 begins with M and ends with N.

The missing word for Page 2, last week, was foundation in Simon Oppenheimer, the Clothier's, ad. The missing word for this page this week begins with E and ends with E.

The missing word for Page 3, last week, was quality in Isaac Pierson's ad. The missing word for this page this week begins with W and ends with G.

Heckerman Family Reunion

A very happy and pleasant day was recently enjoyed at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heckerman. 'Twas a Heckerman Family Reunion and a very joyous one. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heckerman and daughter Helen, A. B. Heckerman of Port Royal, J. Nevin Heckerman and daughter Ann Cornelia of Chattanooga, Tenn., (this son had not been home for five years); Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Horton, nee Ella Heckerman, and son Henry of Huntingdon; Calton Heckerman, the baby of the family (now six feet tall), and Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Heckerman. All enjoyed Beatrice's delicious dinner. Surely the Buckeye State girls know how to serve good "eats." During the day auto rides around the town were enjoyed. Each one present received a souvenir of the day. A photo of the family group was taken. "Dad" thought it a fine one and Mother thought Dad the best looking of all. One thing certain is that both "Peeps" and "Beckie May" feel very proud of the daughter and the boys. D.

The bride is a daughter of Commissioners' Clerk George R. Shuck, and the groom is proprietor of the Hoffman Garage. Both have many friends who, with The Gazette, extend their congratulations and best wishes.

The Passing of a Brave Spirit

Mrs. Almah Wilson, wife of B. F. Wilson of Pittsburgh, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Herring, well remembered by the older citizens of Bedford, died at her home in Pittsburgh on Friday, the 6th instant. The body was brought here to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lysinger, and after religious service Sunday afternoon was laid away in Bedford's beautiful cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were married in the spring of 1888. They then went to Pittsburgh, where they lived until Mrs. Wilson met with a serious accident sixteen years ago. Returning to Bedford, they resided here until last spring, when they went back to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Wilson never recovered from the effect of the accident. She remained an almost helpless invalid throughout those sixteen years. Loving, patient, thoughtful of others, her life was a benediction. Service was the watchword of her days The needy were never neglected The sensitive poor were judiciously helped. The sorrowing were comforted. Her husband's liberality was never spared where the want of others came to her attention. Already she was planning Thanksgiving bounty. "None that we know to be in need must be overlooked" were among her last directions to her husband. The 23rd Psalm was a favorite of Mrs Wilson's, which was read aloud to her in her lingering joyous moments while yet her feet were touching the sands and she was crossing the River into the unknown Beyond.

Thus Almah Wilson went away, leaving a splendid record behind and a character worthy of copying by old and young.

Suffered Twenty-One Years--Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE,
Rapides Par. Echo, La.

Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

Wm. Morrow, Notary Public.

STOPPING THE ROAD HOGS

The wife of an automobile owner said a few days ago, that she did not enjoy driving behind her husband as well as she used to when machines were less numerous. He is a careful, prudent man, who runs at moderate speed.

"If you turn out and give the other machine a good wide berth," the lady went on, "the other fellow usually keeps right along in the middle of the road."

This is so irritating that many men will not turn until the last possible moment. Then a slight miscalculation, and all hands are in the ditch.

Automobiles have this year reached the point where if handled with some judgment, they are as inexpensive as a horse and carriage. The isolation of the farm is broken, a source of pleasure, health, and profit, a wider horizon, is opened up.

But for careful people, much of this pleasure is offset by the hogs of the road. In many cases, the trouble is liquor. To many persons, the swift panorama of nature, the thrill of the flying car, are nothing, unless they can stop and swap a set of highballs

Well travelel roads are infested with a tribe of daredevils, who ought not to steer any more dangerous vehicle than a plough They think of a county highway as a race track, where they can show off their spectacular driving before the eyes of admiring rustics.

If a man escapes accident by a narrow shave, he considers it a closed incident, and rarely makes complaint. Motorists should join for their own self-protection, to give information against chronic speeders.

Will it not be necessary, as motors keep increasing, to have special road police, who shall obtain information about speeders, and file complaints? They could initiate proceedings without incurring ill-will, where the ordinary citizen dislikes to make a formal charge.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS

Bedford Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins, and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this advice. It comes from a resident of this locality:

Abram Wareham, Route No. 3, Everett, Pa., says: "I certainly can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy has been used in my family and has done good work. I had a lame back and pains across my loins. I was hardly able to get around and could hardly stoop or lift Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr Wareham had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 6 Nov 2t

FABRICS OF THE PAST THE FABRICS OF TO-DAY

Velours and Ratine with Plush-Like Pile for Daytime Wear

Brocades for Evening Gowns

New York, November 9, 1914.

There are far less new fabrics upon the market this season than last. The variety, however, does not seem to be lessened, for it merely means that instead of the new we have gone back to many of the fabrics which have been considered passe for many seasons.

Velour de laines and ratine are recent novelties which have held their own. This year they have become thicker and the pile of the velour de laine is heavier, making it seem almost plush like.

Broadcloth is another fabric that has a renewed vogue this year, and many suits and costumes are to be seen of it. The chiffon broadcloth, which is light weight in comparison with the other broadcloth, is used extensively for one-piece dresses. Black, blue, green, beige and mauve are colors which are especially attractive in broadcloth.

A Conservative Model in the Popular Jumper Effect

Faille, once called Ottoman and bengaline, is very popular in silk or wool It has a suppleness and a firmness which make it especially suited to the one-piece frock. The clothes of the season are what determines the fabrics and this year the one-piece frocks and separate coats cause fabrics supple and substantial to be the mode

There is serge, the standby of decades, gabardine and fabrics which have a long-haired silky finish called, kitten's ear, peau de souris (mouse skin), and zibeline. Velvet, imitation mole and Persian lamb cloth complete a wide variety of the smart fabrics for the daylight hours

The jumper effect in dresses which is so popular at the present time, adds another happy way of combining fabrics and color. In faille silk comes a long tunicd frock with a pleated lower skirt and a jumper basque waist The sleeves and underarms of this waist are of soft silk with a Paisley design. A close-fitting little hat with three perky feathers in the front gives extra dash to the costume

Plaids in gray and festive colors are always a bright note in the seasons when they are popular In greens and blues with a touch of red or yellow they may be used to advantage for the winter frock, primarily for home wear, but which may fill many wants under a stylish separate coat The model illustrated is in dark green with a blue and black stripe checked off with narrow lines of red. The bodice is in basque effect and the skirt has a long tunic which dips to the edge of the lower skirt in front and graduates higher in the back. The lower skirt and crushed girdle are of black. The flaring collar and rounding cuffs are of doubled white organdy.

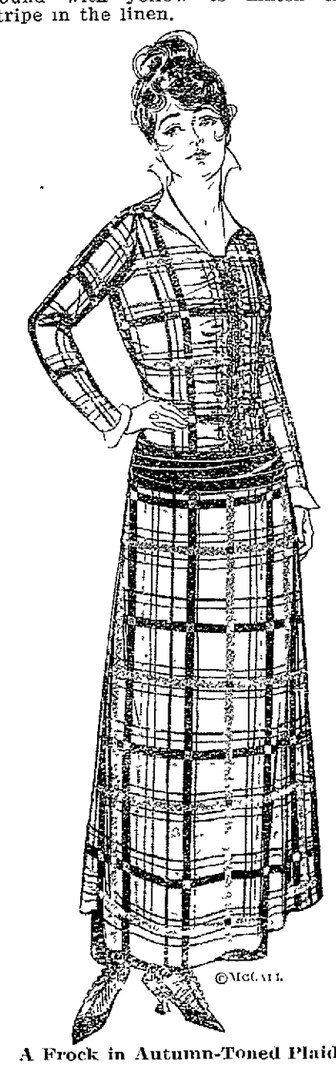

Brocades which embody in themselves all the sumptuousness of a century ago are the fabrics used for evening gowns.

On heavy silk, thin voile, chiffon or velvet, gold and silver threads are woven into the brocade designs. There are also velvet brocaded voiles and chiffons with a bit of gold or silver in or outlining the design. These brocades are not stiff as of old, but soft and pliable, draping most artistically.

Black satin, faille and velvet hold a strong place among evening gowns. These are lightened by the use of ribbon sashes in vivid shades, as well as by the wonderful Roman striped ribbons and silks which are very popular. Some of the newest of these show the Autumn note in their combinations of russet brown, green and dull red with always a stripe of black. This new color scheme is also to be seen in the new taffetas. Taffeta, by the way, is used a great deal in combination with serge and gabardine.

For the younger generation come chiffon voiles with a six- or eight-inch satin stripe in self color woven on the edge. Tunics and flounces are made with this stripe on the edge and with the plain voile for the rest of the frock. These voiles come in all the light shades so popular for evening wear, soft blues, shell pinks, varying shades of green and in a yellow that so closely resembles gold that it hardly seems possible that it is not a metal cloth.

The costumes at present demand many accessories in the way of neck wear, and the present tendency in these dainty lace and organdy affairs is toward the cape effects. Fichu effects are also to be seen and are an attractive addition to a dark frock of serge, gabardine or satin. On the popular dark blue frocks are to be seen cuffs and collars in yellow crepe or ecru linen. One set of ecru linen hand turnback cuffs and standing collar hemstitched in an inch-wide hem. Another set was of white linen with yellow stripes about a quarter of an inch apart. The collar was high and did not meet in the front, while the turnback cuffs were wide and pointed. The edges of collar and cuffs were bound with yellow to match the stripe in the linen.

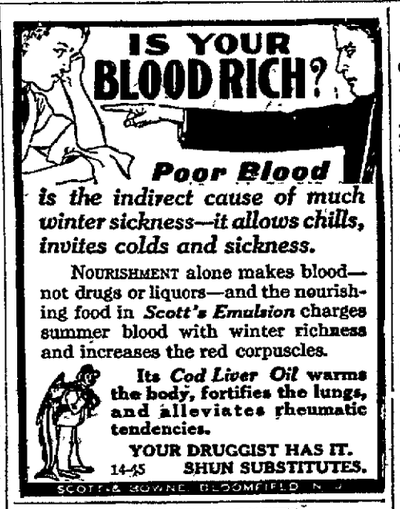

A Frock in Autumn-Toned Plaid

There has been a good deal of talk about the advent of low-heeled shoes, but, except for the walking shoes with rubber soles and spring, or very low heels they have not appeared. Short vamped shoes are again appearing, with high French or Vienna heels. The Vienna heel is quite the newest heel and is neither French, Cuban nor Mexican It is high, narrow and straight and looks pinched.

A new shoe model which is having a vogue among the people who allow themselves the luxury of changing with every whim of the merry jestress Dame Fashion, is square toed and with high French heels. This shoe is fashioned after French shoes.

For the indoor shoe are those with a white kid vamp and black patent-leather back portions and strappings. A single black and white ornament is placed in the front. The bronze shoes made on a pointed last and with high French heels are conservative and yet when used in the right way give an air of careful consideration to a costume.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT

The sun is low in the horizon when November comes. Soon the shortest days of the year will be with us. There is an element of melancholy in their coming. Also the absence of daylight is an economic problem of some importance.

Defective eyesight is one of the handicaps on human labor. This infirmity is largely due to carelessness in use of the eyes under artificial light. When middle-aged people were young, books and newspapers were almost invariably printed in much finer type.

It was very difficult to get the standard authors in legible typography. Many famous newspapers were dressed in what is now called "six point," considered fit now for nothing but legal notices inserted as a matter of court form.

In the old-time home, the toilsome women still stuck to their black work and delicate embroidery, even if the little oil lamp failed to distinguish the thread from the material. They still do such work with imperfect illumination. If your children have to put on spectacles at a precocious age, it is usually because you or your parents abused your eyes.

In the country districts many factories still try to get along with oil lamps. The imperfect lighting creates an atmosphere of gloom, which affects the energy of the force. Tools and material slip out of sight and the results are unproductive. Farmers blunder around their barns with lanterns. Many of which are upset, and a high price is paid in the form of insurance. Modern lighting systems are a wonderful substitute for sunlight, and render eyestrain needless. One can well care for his eyes with modern oil lights, though they are not fitted for large working quarters. But good facilities do not remove human carelessness. How many people there are who sit reading in a darkening room at twilight, simply too indolent to get a better light. A host of people earn a living by relieving the eye strains caused in such ways. Great factories make optical goods, and people line up in the waiting rooms of costly oculists.

Report of the Hotel Physician in a Leading New York Hospital on the Cure of Brain Fatigue and Nervous Exhaustion.

"A few years ago we considered that we were doing well if we cured 10 per cent of the cases of Brain Fatigue and Nervous Prostration brought to us, but since the introduction of Rezistol into our hospital we cure more than 90 per cent. of all the cases in its various forms brought to us. It builds new tissues, gives new energy, new life, new blood and strength to any part of the body attacked by these diseases."

Rezistol is a powerful tonic nourishing food medicine, composed of valuable tonic stimulants obtained from vegetable drugs. Rezistol contains no narcotics or other dangerous drugs which merely deaden pain temporarily but give no permanent relief or cure the cause of disease.

Rezistol is a powerful body builder and blood maker; it is the best remedy known to the medical profession to enrich thin, watery blood and supply new rich blood to the whole body.

It will be found a most valuable remedy in cases of over stimulation in which the excessive use of liquor causes depression, dullness of the faculties or intoxication; it counteracts the depressing effects and restores the system to its normal condition.

HECKERMAN LETTER

Cotton Being Extensively Used Now Instead of Jute.

Atlanta, Ga., November 2.—Did you know that Turkey doesn't seem at all abashed over the prospect of being converted into hash? Eh.

Here in the South one sees daily the great widening use of cotton, which this season seems to be a drug on the market. Twine used by the Post Office Department will hereafter be made of cotton instead of jute. The Postmaster General's decision to this effect shows plainly the ever widening use to which the fleecy staple is put. The above decision will save Uncle Sam many thousands of dollars, for in the long run twine made from cotton costs far less than that made from jute. The department deserves hearty commendation for the step taken in this direction. Just now private interests are doing all they can to open up new sources for the consumption of this American product, the market for which has been sorely limited by a foreign war. Methinks that it is right and proper that the Government should do all that it can do rightfully to the same end. The late order from the Post Office Department for a million and a half pounds of cotton twine will lead to the purchase of several thousand bales of cotton. That, however, is a comparative minor result. The all important effect of the department's order is the prominence it gives to the use of cotton instead of jute materials. Business concerns all over the country are all learning that cotton is just as satisfactory and in very many instances cheaper than jute for various purposes which heretofore the latter has served exclusively. Flour mills are shipping their goods in cotton instead of jute sacks. Sugar mills are doing likewise and now from New York comes the news that the National Coffee Roaster Association is seriously considering the use of cotton for jute bags.

Merchants and consumers, especially those of the South, should do all in their power to encourage this praiseworthy and helpful movement. I find upon reading that from every corner of the Union come the tidings of a great industrial awakening; during the past week I have read that the New England factories have booked enough orders to keep them steadily in operation for two years, while certain Massachusetts mills have changed their spindles in order that they may turn out cotton instead of woolen products for exports. The same authority tells us that a Peabody concern has contracted to furnish three million dollars worth of hides for export. The Colts Arms Company has been working overtime for weeks on rush orders for side arms. The cartridge manufacturers of Connecticut have booked big orders and it has been found necessary to work Sundays as well as day and night to get out the work. A two million dollar contract for equipping a new Chinese government arsenal constitutes an important part of the work ahead. Western States and cities are feeling an uprush of new business vigor as the European demand for American food products increases from week to week, yea I might say from day to day; as for this section down South though it has been temporarily depressed, its spirit has never faltered and now there are unmistakable signs that the cotton situation will adjust itself steadily and surely to war conditions. Cotton exports are growing daily, cotton prices are advancing quite noticeably and cotton planters are determined that they will not be slaves to the one crop in the season of 1915.

Yours truly,
M. P. Heckerman.

A TIME FOR CHARITY

People interested in charitable work say there will be many appeals for help during the coming winter. Business has been very spotty. It is feverish in towns that supply anything usable by soldiers, flat in others. The fact that men working on army blankets are getting time and a half for overtime, does not help the worker who is thrown out of a job because of the shutting up of German trade.

With hunger abroad, lavish expenditures for luxuries appear more than ever heartless. It is true that hundreds of dollars spent on flowers or fancy ices for some Croesus banquet may put money in circulation and give employment. Also they would put just as much money in circulation, if they were devoted to buying flour and fuel for destitute people. And the thought of the gift would be a lasting satisfaction.

The inconceivable suffering of the people of Belgium and other European countries ought not to be overlooked. It is difficult to realize the conditions that there prevail. In the silent peace of our rural autumn scenes, in the busy murmur of industrial cities, it is hard to realize that anything exceptional or tragic is happening elsewhere.

Yet only a few days journey from our shores, thousands of men are daily screaming in death travail. Their wives and children are homeless, and in the words of the Good Book, "destitute, afflicted, tormented."

A strong tie still binds the United States to Europe. They have given us their most active young men. Beginning by digging our ditches and reaping our harvests, they are climbing up to positions of substantial achievement. The prosperity they have helped bring us has drained the vitality of the old country. In Europe's hour of agony, it is but fitting that some generous return should flow back.

Soft Fluffy Hair is First Aid to Beauty

If your hair is not fluffy, soft and lustrous, is falling out, streaked, faded, brittle, or full of dandruff, and if the scalp itches, do not think it must always be that way, for pretty hair is only a matter of care and the use of the proper hair dressing. Your hair is like a plant—if neglected it soon dies, while with a little attention it keeps fresh and beautiful.

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies just the elements needed to invigorate the hair roots and stimulate your hair to grow long, thick, fluffy, soft and lustrous. It removes all dandruff with one application and quickly stops itching head and falling hair. It is the ideal hair tonic and scalp treatment—contains nothing injurious and is delicately perfumed.

F. W. Jordan, Jr., or any druggist, can supply you with Parisian Sage—it is inexpensive. You cannot be disappointed with this delightful and helpful toilet necessity, for it will surely give your hair the beauty and charm of youth—Adv. 13 Nov. 2t.

WEEKS TO CHRISTMAS

Buying Presents EARLY Helps EVERYBODY

A movement is being inaugurated to enlist the county in the benevolent act of providing something for the starving Belgians. We think this is a worthy movement and will likely be responded to by well-to-do people of the county very heartily. The Gazette will lend its mite to the cause.

Laying thousands of men off a fortnight before election and taking them back again a week after election is a corrupt practice which no law thus far devised is expected to reach. Yet it is worse than any Southern bulldozing and worse than open bribery. It is a very clever combination of intimidation and purchase. It seems to have been worked with great success in many places this fall.—New York World.

In the recent election the returns show that the West has almost solidly indorsed Wilson. Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska and other Western States have elected Democratic Governors. South Dakota, Oregon, California, Indiana and Colorado have elected Democratic United States Senators, although all of these States are normally Republican. Kansas and Utah elected Republican Senators by the skin of their teeth and Illinois pulled in a Republican for the Senate by a very narrow margin.

Moreover, the return to power of such obnoxious elements as Penrose, Cannon and McKinley does the Republican party more harm in the West than the victories in New York and Pennsylvania will do them good. Outside of the large manufacturing States, which still worship the idol of protection, the recent election is a wonderful indorsement of the Wilson administration.

In the recent elections the Republican calculators manage to warble a song of extreme victory for themselves and defeat for the Democrats. If you count the Republican victory in Pennsylvania as a pivot for national supremacy, we will acknowledge that they are supreme. So in New York But other States figure in the calculation just as well which blasts all hopes of Republican success in 1916. Of course, they are putting up a brave front and are holding on to every line of argument that appears to be a life string, but the absolute facts are that the Democrats carried enough States to carry with them 307 electoral votes in the electoral college if a President were to be chosen from last election, and the Republicans carried enough to give them 220. The Democratic majority would have been 87. If the same figures prevail in 1916, the Democrats will elect a President to continue the splendid achievements of the present administration. So the sun is not shining so brightly for the Republicans as they thought at first and the clouds are not hovering over the Democrats at all, for they have made gains in the United States Senate and hold control of the House, a state of affairs which never happened after a decided change in the tariff laws. In 1892 after the McKinley tariff law was passed Cleveland was elected. In 1910, after the Payne-Aldrich act passed, the House went Democratic, and in 1912, two years later, the whole National administration changed. So to witness the Democratic control of all the Government after a new tariff law, means that the President has struck the sympathetic beating of the American pulse.

W. C. T. U. Institute

The most successful institute yet conducted by the Bedford County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was that of Thursday, November 5, held at Schellsburg.

Large delegations were in attendance from the various county unions, the trip being made by automobiles.

State Organizer, Mrs. Azubah Jones, of Holsopple was the speaker secured. Her presence was a source of great inspiration, and her formal address on our "Personal Responsibility to the Work," was full of the old time crusade fire which had its desired effect in quickening the membership and securing new recruits. Two extremes in point of age marked the new enrollment. One new member was 92 years of age, the other was a child less than a year old upon whom was tied the white ribbon, the mother assuming the responsibility of special temperance instruction during the years of habit formation.

The royal reception given the county workers by the local Union of Schellsburg is worthy of public note, and the noon hour luncheon proved a veritable banquet, as everything in point of service and things palatable was at our command.

The principal program subjects considered were. "Parliamentary Studies" made practical by a drill; Equal Suffrage," presented by Mrs. A B. Ross; "Anti-Narcotics," by Miss E. V. Shires; "L. T. L. Work" by Legion members in a "Grey Bonnet" exercise representing the State and National papers; and a report of the State W. C T. U. Convention at Oil City, given by the county president. These numbers were in addition to Mrs Jones' work.

A Suffrage Song was effectively sung by Miss E. R. Shuck and the contents of its reasoning heartily approved by the suffrage enthusiasts present.

The Bedford County Institutes have become the "indispensable" and others will be planned for later.

County Pres. W. C. T. U.

The Toy-Arnold Meetings

The second week of the Toy-Arnold evangelistic campaign of Saxton is now on. Large crowds assembled each evening of the first week, and there will be hundreds more to attend the meetings this week and following weeks of the campaign. Dr. Toy is a powerful preacher of righteousness and he flays without reserve the present day evils. Saxton is being stirred as never before.

The meetings thus far have brought the members of the church to their full duty and responsibility. They are now working for the conversion of the unsaved The interest and enthusiasm of the people in the campaign are growing from day to day The Day of Prayer was observed on Thursday of this week when meetings were held in homes all over the community. Wednesday evening was "Odd Fellows' Night," and Friday evening will be "Boy Scout Night," when all the boys will parade to the church accompanied by the band.

Excellent music is being rendered by the choir of 100 voices under the direction of Prof. Arnold, who has won the good graces of the community by his pleasing personality and sweet singing.

Services are now being held in the Reformed Church where accommodations have been provided to seat the hundreds who attend.

A great meeting for men will be held in the Reformed Church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Help Comes Quickly

When Hyomei is Used For Head Colds, Catarrh or Croup.

When your head is all stuffed up causing you dull headaches, difficult breathing, constant sniffling, and you feel generally miserable, there is nothing quite equal to Hyomei to give quick, effective and lasting benefit—yet perfectly harmless, simple to use and inexpensive.

To get quick and certain relief from catarrh or a cold it is most important that the medication goes directly to the inflamed tissue lining the air passages. That's the Hyomei method. Just put a few drops of antiseptic Hyomei in the inhaler that comes with every complete outfit, and breathe it—you will feel better at once. It clears the head, quickly relieves the tightness in the chest and that choked-up feeling, all disagreeable nasal discharges, watery eyes and dull headaches surely cease.

So certain is F. W. Jordan, Jr., of the curative powers of Hyomei for catarrh, croup, asthma, and similar diseases, that he sells it on the "No-cure-no-pay" plan—Adv. 13 Nov. 2t by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Lock speed is a big element of success in making high scores at the trap or in the field.

When you pull the trigger you want it to go with lightning speed.

Flying birds and targets will not wait for a hang fire load or a slow lock.

Our lock was carefully and scientifically timed at the University of Cornell.

Test was made by means of a fly wheel traveling 577.1715 inches per second. By means of a special device it was found that the fly wheel traveled .935 in. while hammer was falling. Dividing .935 by 577.1715 gives the time it took the hammer to fall, .0016+ or expressed in fractional form, 1-625 of a second.

When the hammer struck it was traveling 233 inches per second.

We figure that this greased lightning speed will increase your score at least 5 per cent.

The slower the lock and the slower the load the farther you have to lead your birds.

Stomach Troubles Quickly Cured

People go on suffering from little stomach troubles for years, and imagine they have a serious disease. They over-eat or over-drink and force on the stomach a lot of extra work, but they never think that the stomach needs extra help to do the extra work.

If these people would take Tonoline Tablets regularly they would be a great big help to the stomach in its strain of over-work. No matter what you eat or drink Tonoline tabs sweeten your sour stomach and stop gas belching in five minutes. The heaviness disappears, and the stomach is greatly aided in its work of digestion.

Tonoline

Tablets not only promptly relieves all distress, but if taken regularly will absolutely cure indigestion by building up the flabby, overworked walls of the stomach and make them strong enough to digest the most hearty meal. $1 for a 50 days' treatment. Mailed by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.—Adv. 23 Oct. 4t.

PIANOS AND Player Pianos

There are many of these instruments on the market today but there is no one who disputes the fact that COMPTON-PRICE PIANOS are found in more conservatories, colleges, and studios than any other make. There must be a reason for this. It must be the world's leading make. We are exclusive agents for this piano.

THE AIR-O-PLAYER PIANO

Made by the National people, is entirely all metal, with solid brass mechanism, the only player-piano that's an all metal player. The climate does not affect it in the least. Then we carry the Old DAVENPORT-TRACY LINE. Come in and see me, and when you see and hear these instruments you will decide on one we know. We sell all kinds of musical instruments, specializing on the VIOLIN. We can fit children's hands to any size instrument. I am also a teacher of the violin.

Uplifting Drama.

It ought not to be very difficult to elevate the stage. It has wings and flies.—Christian Register.

Mr. Stone's Luck.

When the agent paid Mrs. Stone the amount of insurance her husband had carried, according to Everybody's Magazine, he asked her to take out a policy on her own life. "I believe I will," she said, "as my husband had such good luck."

"My child was burned terribly about the face, neck and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. The pain ceased, and the child sank into a restful sleep."—Mrs Nancy M. Hanson, Hamburg, N. Y.—Adv.

Diversified Crops in the Cotton States

Certainly anything that can be done to help the South in its immediate emergency should be done. But the final remedy for such a situation as the cotton planters are facing now must come from finding new uses for cotton, and the resulting increase in demand, and from a greater diversification of crops in the Cotton States. The cotton planter now very generally buys hay and corn for cash. He must get in the habit of raising such necessities for himself. It has been ascertained by the Department of Agriculture that whereas the average Ohio farm has 125 fowls, the average South Carolina farm has only 14. The best friends of the South and of its planters believe that the true way to guard against the ups and downs of "King Cotton" is to raise at home the crops now bought from the West and increase the production of small farm animals.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Review of Reviews for November.
